LEUCODERMA CURE.

Leucoderma or white skin does not easily change colour and the so-called unscientific pills and oils only aggravate and produce a dozen more new complications. But Behar Chemical Works proudly place before the public scientific remedies after laborious provings, and tremendous expenses—remedies that are non-irritant, non-mercurial, i.e., totally harmless drugs producing no reaction. Marvellous specific for Leucoderma ever invented. Cures all other obstinate skin diseases. Rs. 10 per set of internal and external medicines to last one month. Postage As. 8. Writes Mr. B. Sinha from Port Blair—a wonderful thing for Leucoderma—which you are selling at such a cheap rate for the public. Prop. J. N. SEN, L.H.M.S., Medical Practitioner.

ASTHMA

RADICAL AND SURE CURE OF 24 YEARS FAME ALL OVER THE WORLD.

The "Amrita Bazar Patrika", Sunday, July 2, 1899.

ASTHMA CURE

TO THE EDITOR,

Sir,—It will be glad tidings to Asthma patients to hear that they can obtain immunity from their terrible sufferings by trying a simple Asthma cure which has come to my knowledge. Babu J. P. Ray is a discoverer of this specific. He is a charitable man and distributes medicine "gratis." A good many persons afflicted with this fell disease in Benares have been radically cured by using his medicine. There are a good many prescriptions which give relief from Asthma temporarily, but there is perhaps no recognised medicine which cures it. The suffering world should, therefore, hail with delight the appearance of a medicine of this kind. Babu J. P. Ray has got a pamphlet printed which gives a description of his treatment and the names of men who have benefited by its use and where it is available to the public. This is a marvellous remedy and I would strongly recommend the sufferers from Asthma to make application to the Babu at Durga Kund Road, Benares City.

CONSUMPTION

REMARKABLE TESTIMONY.

"This is to certify that I have been acquainted with the Rev. G. R. Walters since 1918. My attention was drawn in that year to his consumption cure while serving in India, I was much struck with the testimonials which he had, of cures achieved.

I obtained a consignment of the cure for an officer in a regiment, who had for some years been suffering from lung trouble and had tried various methods of treatment for it without much improvement.

Almost immediately after commencing the cure he experienced distinct relief, and after finishing the second box, all his symptoms had vanished and he appeared in perfect health, and continued so.

I occasionally hear from him now, he is stationed in an unhealthy part of Africa, but says he has had no return of his old troubles.

After returning home, in the beginning of 1920, I wrote to Mr. Walters for another consignment of the cure for a friend who was consumptive, and he experienced immediate relief became much stronger and has had no return of his ailment.

In the early part of this spring, I myself had an attack of Influenza, which left me with a persistent cough, pains in the chest and weakness. I at once wrote to Mr. Walters for his cure which arrived about a fortnight ago. After taking it TWO DAYS the pains in the chest disappeared, the cough ceased and I was feeling very much better in general health. I have the greatest faith in the cure and hope that it will soon be more widely known, as I am convinced that it does all that Mr. Walters' claims for it, and the treatment is taken at home without the necessity to interrupt one's daily routine in any way."

GRAND NEW ROSES.

ROSES ARE FOR SALE ANYWHERE and everywhere, in fact these plants may be purchased from city nurserymen, dealers, etc., in almost every province and principal city in India—but although they can be had at various prices and cheap, too, being ordinary plants of common varieties, they are very poor in quality. Many persons do not know this that good plants can never be got except at proper prices. Much marvellous improvements have been wrought in the newest varieties which have been unanimously awarded Gold Medals by the National Rose Society of England for their general excellence and other qualifications possessed by them. These are the varieties you should order for at once without delay to save the disappointment generally accruing from our receiving them when too late! Every one is a grand bloomer and will grow and flourish in all soils and climates, and relied on to give very best results under good conditions of soil, etc.

We will send on receipt of a remittance one each of the following Roses most beautifully packed to any distance for Rs. 135 only. These can even be sent by post parcels if required for such interior places where the railway facilities are not much. They will no doubt give you best results than any other firm, nay, they will prove a revelation in many cases! Our stock is not very large for such choice varieties and new roses and we therefore cannot recommend you too highly to order at once to us to save disappointment.

BOMBAY POLICE COURTS.

ACQUITTED OF CHARGE OF CAUSING MISCHIEF.

At the Mazagaon Police Court before Mr. G. R. Khairaz, Acting Second Presidency Magistrate, George Henry Baker, charged Miss Hakimji with causing mischief by ordering a cart load of mud to be deposited in front of his garage.

Mr. St. John, Gobader, appeared for the complainant while the accused was defended by Messrs. S. B. Kapadia and B. H. Daruwala, pleaders.

The prosecution story was that there was ill-feeling between the complainant and the father of the accused owing to his complainants), refusal to pay rent in excess of the standard rent. This caused frequent annoyance to him. On 10th of July last the complainant's servant came to him and stated that the accused wanted to let a cart load of mud come into the compound and asked him to back his car further in. When this was done the accused asked the cart driver to deposit the whole cart load of mud right in front of the entrance of his garage preventing his car from being taken into the garage.

His Worship at the outset suggested to compound the case as the mud was removed subsequently, but the parties not agreeing to come to terms, evidence was led in and His Worship after hearing the evidence and defence statement, acquitted the accused.

CONFIRMED CRIMINALS CONVICTED

At the Esplande Police Court before Rao Bahadur C. H. Setalvad Sergeant Bird charged (1) Shanker Khusal and (2) Babboo Kanoo with theft of Rs. 335 in currency notes and a gold watch and chain valued at Rs. 850 belonging to Bhagwat Dayal a Commission Agent.

The evidence showed that at 9 a.m. on August 3, the complainant was going along Sheik Memon Street with currency notes in his pocket. The first accused came from behind and asked complainant to see some dirt on his shirt and advised him to wash it on a well near by. While the complainant was washing his shirt, the accused asked him to take it out and wash it. The complainant took out his vest and deposited the watch, chain and currency notes in it and put it (vest) under his umbrella. Subsequently the first accused picked it up and handed it over to the second accused. They were arrested and handed over to the police. The accused pleaded guilty and his Worship in view of the first accused's five previous convictions, sentenced him to two years' rigorous imprisonment out of which one month in solitary confinement. The other accused having seven previous convictions, was sentenced to two years' rigorous imprisonment out of which two months were ordered to be spent in solitary confinement.

SNATCHING AWAY GOLD CHAIN.

At the Esplanade Police Court before Rao Bahadur C. H. Setalwad, Acting Chief Presidency Magistrate, Sergeant Bird charged Shantaram Bhaiset Dhotee, (28) a gold-smith, with kidnapping Nandbara (8) a Hindu girl, and theft of a gold chain valued at Rs. 50 from the person of the girl.

The evidence showed that on Wednesday last the girl was standing at a grain shop at Kalbadevi to buy pulse, when the accused came to her and asked her to go with him to some other shop where she would get better pulse. The girl agreeing to do so, the accused went with her a short distance, gave some almonds to it and snatched the gold chain from her neck. The girl raised an alarm and the accused was chased and arrested. The accused had concealed the chain underneath the tongue in his mouth.

The accused pleaded not guilty and said the real thief had thrown the chain on him while he was chasing him.

The accused having one previous conviction was sentenced to five months' rigorous imprisonment.

CHARGED WITH CHEATING.

At the Esplanade Police Court before Rao Bahadur C. H. Setalwad, Gulamali Esmailji and Fidahusein Gulamhusein, Borah merchants, charged Mohmedali Allabux, a Borah merchant, with cheating, breach of trust and criminal misappropriation and applied for warrant. Mr. Fereira of Messrs. Daphtary, Fereira and Diwan, Solicitors, with Mr. Bhave, pleader, appeared for the complainants.

The complainants in their information alleged that about the end of November 1918 the first complainant told the accused that he had 110 bales of cotton for sale. The accused represented to him that he had business connections with respectable houses in England, Germany, Holland, Japan, etc., and that if the bales were sent to any of those places they would realize better prices than in Bombay and that as he was sending other consignments of his other constituents to those places, the freight would be less than otherwise. The accused agreed to act as Commission Agent for the complainant on two per cent. and said that he would secure for the complainant an advance of Rs. 15,000 or thereabout from the Eastern Bank on the security of shipping documents. The bales were shipped to Rotterdam and when the first complainant asked for the advance of Rs. 15,000. The accused stated it was then inadvisable to secure an advance as the rate of exchange was unfavourable. In order to accommodate the complainant, however, the accused drew in January and February 1920 in favour of the firm of Abdulhusein Sulemanji six hundis for Rs. 15,000 each hundi being for Rs. 2,500. The first complainant had to pay the monies himself as the same was not paid by the accused on due date.

Later on, when pressed, the accused gave the first complainant two cheques, viz.: for Rs. 2,500 and Rs. 2,000. Subsequently when the complainants pressed for the account of the bales the accused denied having any concern with the said bales.

His Worship issued a warrant of arrest of the accused and ordered him to release him on a bale of Rs. 7,500 and one surety for the like amount. The accused on Wednesday afternoon surrendered to the court with his Counsil Mr. Saher and His Worship released him on a bail of Rs. 7,500 and postponed the case till the 18th instant.

GURDWARA LEGISLATION.

CONSIDERATION BY PUNJAB COUNCIL.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LAHORE, August 11.

The last meeting of summer session of the Punjab Legislative Council was held to-day with poor attendance of members. After a supplementary demand for grant being voted by the Council, Hon'ble Mr. Fazli Hussain moved that Punjab Town Improvement Bill be passed. The motion did not arouse much lively discussion and after a short debate the Bill was passed.

GURDWARA REFORM.

Before the sitting came to a close, Mr. Fazli Hussain made a statement regarding Gurdwara legislation and said that Sir John Maynard had made a statement about it at the opening of the session and he wanted to repeat that Government sympathised with the Sikh movement for reform of Gurdwaras and shrines and that they were prepared to help so far as it lay in their power to promote the cause of reform and were ready to assist therein so far as it was compatible with their duty to protect the interests of all those who were affected thereby. Efforts made from time to time, Mr. Fazli Hussain said, have unfortunately not met with success as the task of reconciling various interests to the satisfaction of all parties was an exceedingly difficult one. It was now urged upon the Government that a Bill which embodies considered views and wishes of the Sikh members of the Legislative Council, on obtaining the Government's sanction, be placed before this Council so that the Council might be in a position to decide whether to pass it as it stood or with such modifications as might commend themselves to it. This view was being carefully considered by the Government and as soon as a decision was arrived at, it would be duly announced and a suitable action taken in accordance therewith.

Concluding Mr. Fazli Hussain said: "There is one thing of which I can with confidence assure this Council and the public outside the Council that Government is not only willing but is anxious to take up legislation at as early a date as possible and with regard to the interests of all concerned to make it as acceptable to those who seek reform as the claims of justice will allow. The matter of legislation, however, is one over which Government has no final control and it is the privilege as well as the duty of this Council.""

The Council then adjourned sine die.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—It has already been reported in the Press how Syt. Lakshmi Narain Maheshwri of Pukhrayan has been harassed in the matter of paying the fine imposed upon Syt. Ram Swarup Gupta, M.A., one of the famous 55 members of the Provincial Congress Committee. His cart, 2 buffaloes and 2 bullocks worth about Rs. 500 were formerly attached. All these were made to stand in the Tehsil compound for several days and when no bids were forthcoming, undue pressure was brought to bear upon a neighbouring Zamindar, who arranged a bid, and all these worth about Rs. 500 were auctioned for a sum of merely Rs. 160. But to realise the balance of Rs. 340 the agents of bureaucracy attached on the 1st July last three granaries (Khatties) containing about 2,300 maunds of Arhar and Matar worth nearly Rs. 11,500 in spite of all the protests of their owners. These really do not belong to Syt. Lakshmi Narain alone. They are jointly owned by Syt. Kalka Prasad and Syt. Minnoo Lal also, who too entered a strong protest at the time of attachment. This is an instance of British justice! May I, Mr. Editor, request you to give due publicity to it? I do not expect any redress.—Yours, etc.,

N. K. BHARTIYA.

AN IMPOSTER.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—In the issue of "the Chronicle" dated Tuesday August 8, 1922, I saw a para headed as "a case against one posing to be Raja's brother."

With reference to this publication I have the honour to draw your attention to the following fact in order that there should be no misunderstanding in the public as large.

The pretender and his followers before coming to Bansda had sent a telegram to His Highness the Maharajasahib of Bansda informing him of their coming etc.

Thereupon a State officer was sent to the station to receive the party. After a little conversation with them, the officer doubted the reality of their high position. On coming to Bansda, they were immediately detected after a short inquiry. The pretenders were then given over to the State Police for being preceded with according to law. One of them professed to be the brother of the Rajasahib of Jhalrapattan and not of Jodhpur.

These were the facts regarding the affair.

Hoping to be excused for the trouble.—Yours etc.

K. L. GOKHALE,
Private Secretary to H. H. the Maharajasahib of Bansda.

The case under section 279 of the Indian Penal Code pending against Sir Montagu Webb in the Court of the city Magistrate of Karachi has been withdrawn by the Police Prosecutor, Mr. Ramchand Naraindas under instructions from the District Magistrate of Karachi under section 414 of the Criminal Procedure Code.

THE CONSPIRACY.

Since the days of the Curtis conspiracy, there has been nothing more amazingly impudent than the frantic attempt which is being made by a small clique of English Civilians and their supporters here and in England to prevent Indians from coming to their own in their own country. The present move of this clique is not less audacious than the Curtis-Meston conspiracy of six years ago, but the more reprehensible, because on the advent of the Reforms it was claimed for the Civil Service that they were ready to cooperate in their working and in placing Indians on the road to "responsible Government". We have never for a moment believed that the British Civilians, who are used to unbridled autocracy, would submit to a sudden transformation of their position so as voluntarily to become susceptible to the influences of democracy. The Ethiopian will change his skin and the leopard his spots before the bureaucracy changes its angle of vision. The truth of this needs no demonstration, and it has already dawned upon even the most purblind worshippers of the Montagu fetish. The number of Civilians that have at all taken kindly to the spirit of the reforms is few and far between, and these are the exceptions who have always known in the heart of their hearts that Britain's "trusteeship" of India is a camouflage and that she cannot for ever hold India in the grip of her Imperialism. But the bulk of the Civilians have always remained averse to any political changes, and, whether in the days of Morley or Montagu, they have been consistently opposed to any idea of letting Indians govern themselves.

It is these people and their champions in the neo-Imperialist Parliament and Press of England that have, with a steady aim and purpose, tried to resist the onrush of the tidal wave of progress. Their misguided constancy to the exploded shibboleths of autocracy is touching in its simplicity and to say this is to say all that can be said in praise of the antediluvian British Civil Service, which Mr. Lloyd George has eulogised. Their professions of altruism notwithstanding, it is quite obvious that the Civilians are not here for obliging Indians, and Mr. Lloyd George was, for once at least, honest in his professions regarding India, when he said:

> "We have invited the cooperation of the people of India in the discharge of this trust. We have invited them in increasing numbers and perhaps in increasing proportions. I think that that was inevitable. It was a natural development. We have invited them on the Bench, we have invited them in the Army, we have invited them in the Civil Service, and we have invited them to assist in the Government of India under their own people now in the Legislature. That was an inevitable evolution, but I want to make it clear, if it is not already clear, that that is not in order to lead up to the final relinquishment of our trust, but with a view of bringing India into partnership in the discharge of that trust within the British Empire."

Thus, Indians are "invited" to cooperate not towards the emancipation of their own country but in bringing India "into partnership in the discharge of that trust within the British Empire." This is a strange kind of trust—a perpetual trust of which the beneficiaries are the trustees themselves. Our neo-imperialists realise that as time goes on, and as the difficulties in India go on increasing—as "they are bound to increase with the spread of education, with the greater knowledge in India of what is going on outside, with the influence which comes from great movements from every other part of the world, surging on the frontiers of India and sending a thrill of disquietude throughout the whole of the country"—it will become impossible to continue to rule India with a handful of imported English Civilians. Therefore, "it is essential to have the aid of Indian Civil Servants, Indian Soldiers, Indian Judges and Indian Legislatures". In short, British imperialists will be prepared to make slight adjustments as a concession

ALLIED CONFERENCE.

M. POINCARE'S POLICY

APPROVED BY FRENCH CABINET.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Aug. 10.

Paris.—A special Cabinet meeting, summoned to deal with the Inter-Allied Conference, has telegraphed to London, unanimously approving M. Poincare's policy.

The Paris newspapers have received reports of the threatened rupture of the London Conference with complete equanimity. They point out that the immediate effect of such a rupture would be that France could resume her freedom of action, but they express the opinion that a rupture is improbable.

Several newspapers accuse Mr. Lloyd George of desiring to spare Germany.

AGAINST GRANTING MORATORIUM.

Paris.—The French Cabinet, at a special meeting, after resolutely upholding the principle of granting Germany no moratorium without the productive guarantees, decided to give M. Poincare complete freedom of action as regards the specific points.

BRITISH CABINET'S DECISION.

LONDON, Aug. 10.

A meeting of the Cabinet this afternoon, which was attended by practically all Ministers, unanimously decided on the policy to be followed by four Ministers constituting the British Delegation and also to support them regarding the report of the Committee of Experts.

Mr. Lloyd George interviewed the Belgian and Italian Foreign Ministers, this morning, and is having an audience with the King this evening.

Members of the Cabinet are at present remaining in London.

TENSION YET UNRELIEVED.

It is stated, in British official quarters, that nothing has hitherto developed really relieving the position at the Allied Conference, though everybody is trying to prevent a breakdown. It is felt that unless there is some radical change, to-morrow's proceedings are hardly likely to be prolonged.

GERMAN PRESS COMMENTS.

Berlin.—The keenest interest is being taken in the London Conference, but hitherto there has been little Press comment.

The "Vossiche Zeitung" says that hitherto every conference of the Entente, which has endeavoured to solve the economic question politically, has ended in a compromise which has resulted in accentuating the economic disorganisation of Central Europe.

The "Freiheit" is of the opinion that a rupture between the Entente is very improbable at present.

REPUBLICANS' UNSUCCESSFUL COUP.

LONDON, August 10.

An Ulster Border incident, at one o'clock in the morning led to the calling out of the Sussex regiment. A party of the Republicans entered the Northern territory along the railway and attacked the special police post at Bessbrook station on the Great Northern railway. Very lights were sent up to attract the attention of the military who moved out from Newry with a big contingent of the Special Police and constabulary. Attempts to encircle the raiders, however, failed and they escaped.

IRREGULARS' MOVEMENTS.

LONDON, Aug. 10.

The Irish Irregulars are apparently preparing to evacuate the important stronghold of Cork, as, according to the passengers who have arrived at Liverpool, Government House and other buildings are in flames. The Republicans are using machine-guns and rifles from the hills on both sides of the river, and it is reported that the bridges connecting Cork with the outlying towns have been blown up.

Public buildings at Queenstown are also said to have been burnt down.

GERMAN UNDESIRABLES.

800 EXPELLED FROM STRASBURG.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Aug. 10.

Manifestly as one of the coercive measures foreshadowed in the recent semi-official announcement, a Strasbourg telegram states that expulsion notices have been served on five hundred German undesirables and their expulsion will be completed by Saturday midnight.

[Strasburg is a fortified city of Alsace-Lorraine, in France, on the river Ill, which was captured by the Germans in 1870, but re-won by the French in 1918.]

SITUATION IN LISBON.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Aug. 10.

Reuter learns from Lisbon that the city continues in military charge, but conditions are becoming normal. Work is being resumed, and the supply of bread is sufficient. The strike of stevedores continues, but naval men are assisting in unloading the ships. No newspapers are appearing. There were a number of bomb outrages on Tuesday.

GREEK JUBILATION.

LLOYD GEORGE THANKED

FOR COMPLIMENTING HELLENIC BRAVERY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM).

LONDON, August 11.

Athens.—The Greeks have demonstrated their gratitude to Mr. Lloyd George for his complimentary references to the Greek feats of arms in the course of his speech in the House of Commons on 4th August by a mass meeting at which a resolution of thanks was carried to-day.

MOVEMENTS OF GREEK TROOPS.

ORDER TO FALL BACK GIVEN.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Aug. 10.

Constantinople.—The Commander of the Turkish gendarmerie announces that movements of the Greek outposts on the Chatalja line indicate that an order to fall back has been given.

ANGORA'S DEMANDS.

INTERVIEW WITH FETHI BEY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, August 11.

Fethi Bey, the Kemalist Minister for the interior, in an interview in London which has been published by the "Manchester Guardian", emphasised that the fundamental demand of the Angora Government was equality of status with other nations.

He opposed any form of territorial session to the Armenians inside the existing Turkish frontiers; and strongly advocated exchange of Minorities between the Near Eastern States, whereby the Turks in Macedonia would be settled in Anatolia and the Greeks in Anatolia transferred to Macedonia voluntarily under the mediation of the League of Nations. He indicated that the Angora Government, while not abadoning the claim to territorial sovereignty in East Thrace including Gallipoli, were prepared for complete demilitarisation of the zone on either side of the Dardanelles, also the Bosphorus, except Constantinople in which they wished to retain a garrison of Turks. They were willing that this zone should be open to constant inspection by the League of Nations in order to ensure that neither Turkey nor any other power was bringing it under military control.

EMPIRE EXHIBITION AND INDIA.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM).

LONDON, Aug. 10.

In accordance with the resolution adopted at a large meeting of merchants and others in the City, on June 28th, to support India's participation in the British Empire Exhibition, Sir William Meyer has appointed an Advisory Committee to further the project in Britain, and to consult the Government of India regarding the appointment of a whole-time Secretary.

The Committee consists of Sir Louis Kershaw, Sir George Barnes, Sir Thomas Holland, Sir Charles McLeod, Sir Frank Carter, Sir Marshall Reid, Sir Stephen Demetriadi, Messrs. McMorran and N. N. Wadia.

COMMITTEE FOR BURMA.

A similar Committee for Burma comprises: Sir Harvey Adamson, Sir Trevredyn Wynne, Sir Arthur Binning, Colonel Aplin and Mr. Alexander Howard.

"GREATEST EVER HELD."

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, August 10.

As an illustration of the prospects of the British Empire Exhibition of 1924 as being the greatest exhibition ever held, it is pointed out that so far Australia is spending a quarter of a million sterling and India 167,000. The South Africa has provided for this in the estimates to the value of thirty thousand and the Federated Malay States has voted the same amount. Space has been allotted to the Gold Coast and Nigeria; whilst New Zealand and Canada have not yet decided to what extent they will participate. Already 350,000 square feet have been allotted provisionally to the Dominions not including Canada and New Zealand, compared with 110,000 occupied by the Dominions in the Franco-British Exhibition of 1908.

MR. MONTAGU TO VISIT INDIA.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

MADRAS, Aug. 10.

Referring to the "Indian Daily News" cable regarding the contemplated visit to India of Mr. Montagu in the next cold weather, "New India" understands that the news is accurate.

ITALIAN GOVT. GETS VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Aug. 10.

Rome.—The Chamber of Deputies has given the new Government a vote of confidence by 247 votes to 121.

MENACE TO CONSTANTINOPLE.

PREMIER'S PRO-GREEK POLICY.

CONDEMNED BY BOMBAY MUSLIMS.

APPEAL TO HELP SUFFERING TURKS.

Under the auspices of the Central Khilafat Committee, a public meeting of the Mahomedans was held on Friday afternoon at 1-30 o'clock, after the Jommeh prayers in connection with the malicious attempts of the Greeks to occupy Constantinople and also to protest against the alleged Greek atrocities when Seth M. M. H. J. M. Chotani presided. The proceedings were in Urdu. At the outset Urdu poems were recited by the students of the Mustafa Kamal Pasha High School.

SETH CHOTANI'S REMARKS.

Then Seth Chotani rose to speak.

He said: "Brethren, we have met here to-day to express our indignation at the Greek atrocities and the hostile attitude of the British Ministers towards Turkey and to declare that the British Government will experience serious difficulties if this state of things is allowed to continue with impunity. It is regrettable that inspite of repeated warnings, Mr. Lloyd George is not prepared to give up his hostile attitude towards Turkey. On the contrary his behaviour is becoming quite intolerable. At a time when other statesmen of Europe are lending sympathetic support to the authenticated reports of Greek atrocities, the responsible Ministers of the British Government go on repeating the imaginary stories of Turkish atrocities. The whole world knows that an Inter-Allied Commission of Inquiry has already decided that barbarous atrocities have been perpetrated by Greeks on the unarmed and helpless Turkish population, and that all rumours spread in Europe against the Turks are absolutely unfounded and untrue being the result of a false propaganda engineered and carried on by begoted Bishops or rebellious Armenians, who entertain bitter enmity against the Turks on religious grounds. No responsible Association or Commission has ever found fault with the general behaviour of the Turks, and even some of the members of British Parliament have praised them for their behaviour and religious toleration. It is quite obvious that General Townshend or Commander Kenworthy have no religious or national connection with the Turks. It is only justice and fair-play which make them admire the Turks for their excellent behaviour. Even in England there are thousands of people who express hatred at the present policy of Mr. Lloyd George. But with all that Mr. Lloyd George is bent upon showing friendship towards Greece and enmity against Turkey and thereby turning the whole Islamic world against the British Empire in his own personal interests. I wish the English people could realize in due season what Mr. Lloyd George is doing to destroy the faith of the Eastern people in the British Empire.

The brave and noble Turks are still subjected to terrible atrocities. Helpless women and orphans are hiding their faces in deserted places simply to save their life and honour from the murderous Greeks. Mosques and places of worship are burnt to ashes and dwellings damaged and destroyed. These sorrowful events have deeply wounded the hearts of the Mussalmans of the world, and they can under no circumstances, tolerate this state of affairs.

HONOUR OF ISLAM.

At the critical juncture when the honour of Islam is at state we should not forget our responsibilities. Our faith is put to the severest test. Blessed are those who come out successful in this hard trial. Remember the existence of Islam depends upon the Khilafat and if we failed to defend the Khilafat the Islamic forces will come to a ruin. The Islamic power depends upon the preservation of the Ottoman Empire and Constantinople which are by historic and religious association, the centre of the Islamic Power. Hence it is our sacred duty to protect it against the enemies of Islam. For the last few days, we have been hearing various rumours about Constantinople. That news must serve as a lesson to us. The Greek armies have mustered round Constantinople, and though the Allied Powers have given assurance that the Greek armies will not be allowed to occupy Constantinople yet utterances of Mr. Lloyd George's Government can no longer be trusted. It is just possible this assurance may meet the same fate as those famous pledges given to the world during the war. We want to declare it publicly that the Mussalmans of the world cannot tolerate to see that the Greeks get the smallest possible help directly or indirectly from the British Government. If the British Ministers encourage the Greek to the occupation of Constantinople the Mussalmans of the world will never forget and forgive and the British position which has already suffered a severe blow owing to the violation of solemn pledges will be seriously endangered in the East.

Our brave Turkish brethren are discharging their duties honourably. Let us not forget them at this critical juncture. If we cannot fight the enemies of Islam we should at least render pecuniary help to the Miyadidin of Islam. At the same time we should continue our struggle in India by acting upto the country's programme and by making Swadeshi movement a complete success. We should prove to the world particularly to the British Ministers that we have every right to live in this world as a self-respecting nation. May the Almighty God enable us to serve Islam and our country at this hour of trial.

RESOLUTIONS.

Maulana Nazir Ahmed Khujandi moved the following resolution:—

1. Resolved that this meeting of the Moslems of Bombay expresses its extreme indignation at the most barborous and shameful atrocities committed by the regular Greek army on the unarmed and helpless Turkish men, women and children and considers that the responsibilities for this atrocious act are due to the policy adopted the British Government and especially Mr. Lloyd George. This meeting is confident that the righteous and generous Indian hearts sympathise with the oppressed Turks and consequently appeals to all Indians and especially to Mahomedans that in view of the eminence of these facts they should try their best to remove hardships inflicted on the oppressed and by every possible means try to save the oppressed Turks from the barbarities of the Greeks."

The resolution, on being seconded by Maulana Mahomed Shah, it was put to the vote and declared carried.

On the motion of Maulana Maulvi Abdul Alem Saddiqui, the following second resolution was passed:—

"That this meeting of the Muslims of Bombay expresses its strong resentment at the unholy determination of the Greeks to capture Constantinople and believes that such an act would create a strong excitement in the Islamic world to its extreme pitch and considers the speech of the Premier against the Turks which is full of misleading statements with deep sense of contempt and hatred, and is of opinion that the British Government is responsible for the anti-Turkish and pro-Greek policy of the Premier and it, further, declares its firm determination that the Indian Muslims will not rest content until the Turks get an honourable peace."

MR. C. R. DAS.

CALCUTTA'S WELCOME TO RELEASED LEADER.

NOTION OF RESUMING PRACTICE RIDICULED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, Aug. 10.

Mr. C. R. Das who was released from Alipur Jail on Wednesday night after serving a sentence of six months' simple imprisonment, was visited by many friends and admirers of his to-day. In the afternoon a batch of young men of the Ayurvedic National College arrived at his house in a procession singing songs and carrying his decorated photo. After presenting garlands to Mr. Das and offering benediction, they returned in the same procession to the college. A large crowd had assembled both outside and inside Mr. Das's house the whole day to have a glimpse of the released leader. Mr. Das looked cheerful and appeared to be in ordinary health.

Interviewed by a Press representative, Mr. Das said, that he had been treated exceptionally well by the jail authorities and he had nothing to complain. Asked whether he gave advice to pleaders and vakils to resume practice, he denied having done so, but he said that he did not blame those who had rejoined the bar if that was necessary for their livelihood. Questioned as to the future programme of the Congress, Mr. Das did not like to express any opinion in the matter without examining the conditions of the country, as he said it was not fair to the country to make any statement just now. The interviewer even ventured to ask Mr. Das, if there was any truth in the rumour that he was going to resume practice. Mr. Das remarked that it was ridiculous for anybody to think that he was going to join the bar. He further said that he was under a promise to the Maharaja of Dumraon to conduct the Raja case and he gave up his practice, subject to the same condition. But he stated that he was not certainly going to Dumraon for the present.

IMPERIAL AIR MAIL SERVICE

ADVISORY BOARD'S REPORT.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM).

LONDON, Aug. 10.

The Civil Aviation Advisory Board's report on the Imperial Air Mail services deals exclusively with aeroplanes. It states that efficient civil attempts to keep open the Empire's airways should be granted a considerable measure of financial assistance from the Government, and expresses the view that the employment of pilots and the personnel and production of the aircraft should create an organisation which would be capable of rapid extension in the case of a war.

The report recommends the formation of a Research Sub-Committee to study the scientific and technical aspects, and a special fund should be allocated to the Committee for the construction of experimental machines. The report deals in detail with the service to India for which it advises a grant of £200,000 sterling to be spread over three years for the purchase of experimental material.

SUGGESTIONS.

The report suggests the laying down of a route from Bagdad to Karachi and the inviting of tenders for daily and weekly services over the various stages of the route to India. The Indian Government and the Colonial Office should be invited to contribute financially. The Board estimates the receipts of the weekly trip, suggested for the Indian Mail service, at £825 sterling, and stipulates that the five years' guarantee of a small percentage on the capital invested should be given to the Company whose tender is accepted. The report records the conviction that Karachi can never be a real air mail terminus for India, and says the main Imperial air route should extend from Karachi to Calcutta and beyond. The report estimates that £100,000 sterling, spread over three years, is necessary for laying out and preparing the route from Bagdad to Karachi and the erection of the necessary plant and sheds and £20,000 sterling for preparing for the civil machines route from Cairo to Bagdad now operated by the Royal Air Force.

SIR R. CRADDOCK'S PARTING SHOT.

CERTIFICATE TO SIR H. BUTLER.

A WARNING TO BURMESE MONKS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

RANGOON, August 10.

After the presentation of awadrs at to-day's durbar, the Lieutenant Governor in the course of his speech alluded to the valuable services of the police when he said it was the fashion to abuse and belittle. Black sheep, he said, when discovered received severe punishment, but little regard was paid to the freat numbers who faithfully performed their duty exhibiting courage, fidelity and often gallantry of the hightest order.

After recalling the great and unqualified success of the Prince of Wales' visit Sir Reginald Craddock said:—"When the term of the head of the province is nearing the close, speculation as to his successor is always rife. That speculation has been set at rest by the announcement just made. In Sir Harcourt Butler Burma will welcome back an old friend, a Governor of great talents and a man of wide views who is a strong believer in Burma's future. To his kowledge of Burma acquired when he was Lieutenant Governor he will now add the experience gained in administering a great province under the new reforms."

BURMA REFORMS.

Sir Reginald then reviewed the progress in the provincial administration sice 1917 and proceeded to speak on the forthcoming reforms. Sir Reginald said: "We have arrived at a state of things in which the country is suddenly to be given almost manhood suffrage with no sex disqualification for those fulfilling the property tests. Future historians will point to this political adventure as one of most lightningliks rapidity. The people who are about to plunge into governing in the best of representative Government will be the party who clamour for the whole instead of the part and who are not merely shouting to others to jump in at the deep end but also profess themselves eager to jump off into the mid ocean where they must perish unless they are gifted with miraculous powers of which they have given no proof. British Government has been a faithful and honest guardian of the estate and property of the Burmese people and has not educated its wards to be serfs and slaves but to be free men and true. The time when its wards would grew up has now approached and the serfs are impatient and want to take over the whole property at once though ignorant of difficulties of the task and the dangers to be faced. They have both the impatience and inexperience of youth and no prudent manager would wish the ruin and destruction of long years of faithful management by committing it incontinently and completely to inexperienced hands. A civilisation is being introduced of western conceptions and western habits of thought are built up and evolved by many generations of experience. The movement for western civilisation is not being imposed on the people of Burma. It is their own preference. Government has to look not, only to a few who understand and appreciate the new form of civilisation but to many millions for whom it is still a sealed book, hence the necessity of learning swimming in a bath rather than in the mid-ocean. Autonomy of state is no synonym for liberty of the subjects. The latter and not the former counts for happiness of the people at large."

EFFICIENT GOVERNMENT.

To those who said "Let the new Government be inefficient, all is well if it be our own", Sir Reginald said that efficient Government did not mean dragooning the whole nation into an animated automata but doing their best possible with the available men, materials and money and any race which deliberately rejected efficiency would surely perish. Between the fear that the change would be too great and the hope that matters would resolve themselves into a hopeful conclusion, the issue hung on sound commonsense of the people, even more than on prudence and restraint of the leaders. If the belief that the average Burman possessed a good stock of common sense be true, then the reforms might indeed prove a stopping stone to further progress and to the uplift of the people." Burma cannot always be tied to India's apron strings but will assuredly separate herself in due course. While you chafe at the inconveniences Burma cannot forget what she owes to the Indian capital and labour and Indians and other domiciled races cannot be left out in the cold. It would be madness to disparage the work done by Europeans or to ignore the future part they will play in Burma, for the British race will not abandon its task half finished even if a section of Burmans should sulk. As to the monk he can do as he likes so long as he does not break the law of the land; but if the yellow robe rules the field of militant politics it will lose its colour. Will it risk the veneration of centuries for a mere day's applause of the gaping multitude?

In conclusion Sir Reginald counselled Burma to take the opportunity offered by the reforms and to show by moderation, restraint, consideration and commonsense that they could manage their own affairs and be entrusted with yet higher responsibilities; then indeed India might have to look to her laurels.

The "Madras Mail" understands that out of a big loan raised in England for railway development in India, South India is to receive an allotment of 35 crores of rupees for carrying out long delayed railway development projects. Out of this South Indian Railway is to have nine crores of rupees, the bulk of the balance going to M. and S. M. Railway.

AN INTERVIEW WITH MAHATMA GANDHI.

"NON-CO-OPERATION NOT CONTRARY TO CHRIST'S TEACHING."

The "Manchester Guardian" publishes the following interview which one of its correspondents had with Mahatma Gandhi when the latter was an under-trial prisoner in the Sabarmati gaol : —

AHMEDABAD, June.

It is no uncommon thing to hear Mahatma Gandhi referred to by his followers as "The Christ of India." To a Christian, of course, this phrase sounds absurd not to say blasphemous but to the average Indian who knows about the Nazarene Prophet only by hearsay there are sufficient external resemblances to account for the use of this title. It is not alone the simple and saintly life of the Mahatma his reputation amongst the ignorant as a miracle-worker, his personal attraction, his belief in non-violence that suggest this comparison. In the political situation also in which he finds himself there are not a few striking if superficial resemblances to that in which Christ lived. But how-ever parallel the political situation may seem to be, there is one great difference that must present itself to the mind of any thoughtful person. In the incident of the tribute money and the payment of taxes to Caesar it would seem that Christ's position was the very opposite of Gandhi's doctrine of non-cooperation with Imperial Government. "Render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's and to God the things which are God's" is not this the exact opposite of Gandhi's teaching?

I was fortunate enough to have a long conversation with Mr. Gandhi on this and other matters a few days before he was sentenced to six years' imprisonment. He was already in prison at Ahmedabad when I visited him and was awaiting his final trial before the assizes.

He and his fellow-prisoner—Mr. Banker the printer of "Young India"—were comforthably accommodated with a pleasant verandah space opposite their cells, which were scrupulously clean and roomy. When I arrived the Mahatma was holding a sort of levee on the varandah and was surrounded by a group of relatives and followers. He seemed in the best of spirits, and was obviously the life and soul of the party. After a while friends retired and —except for the gaoler—we were left alone to our discussion.

We came to the subject of Non-Co-operation. I asked him if—in view of the answer Christ gave in the incident of the tribute money—he did not think the policy of Non-Cooperation was contrary to Christ's teaching.

"Not being a Christian," he replied "I am not bound to justify my action by Christian principles. But as a matter of fact in this case I do not think there is any indication that Christ was against the principles of Non-Cooperation. I think His words show that. He was for it."

"I do not understand" I protested. "Surely the meaning is quite clear. "Render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's" means that it is our duty to pay to the civil authorities what is their due. If it doesn't mean that what does it mean?"

GANDHI'S EXPLANATION.

"Christ never answered a question in a simple and literal manner" replied Mr. Gandhi. "He always gave in His replies more than was expected something deeper—some general principle. It was so in this case. Here He does not mean at all whether you must or must not pay taxes. He means something far more than this. When He says "Give back to Caesar the things which are Caesar's," He is stating a law. It means"—and here the Mahatma waved his hand as though putting something from him—"it means "Give back to Caesar what is his—i.e., I will have nothing to do with it." In this incident Christ enunciated the great law which He exemplified all His life—of refusing to cooperate with evil. He would never cooperate with evil. When Satan said to Him, "Bow down and worship me"—i.e., cooperate with me,—then He said, "Get thee behind me, Satan." When the crowds round Him wanted to take Him by force and make Him a military king, He refused to cooperate with them as their method was evil: they wanted Him to rely on force. Christ's attitude against the authorities was defiant," continued the Mahatma. "When Pilate asked Him if He were king He answered "Thou sayest it." Is not that treating authority with defiance? He called Herod "that fox." Was that like cooperation with authorities? And before Herod He would not answer a word. In short, He refused to cooperate with him; and so I refuse to cooperate with the British Government."

"But," I said, "surely it is our duty in this imperfect world to cooperate with what is good in individuals and institutions."

"As a man," said the Mahatma, "I would gladly cooperate and he friends with Lord Reading: but I could not cooperate with him as the Viceroy, being a part of a corrupt Government."

A SATISFACTORY GOVERNMENT.

Protesting further, I said: "Granted the Government has made mistakes, yet you cannot surely say it is wholly bad; if there is miscarriage of justice here and there, the broad fact remains that the 300 millions of India are kept in a condition of law and order. Are you against Governments in general? Can you point out to me any Government on earth that is faultless and would satisfy you?"

"Yes" he replied at once. "Look at the Government of Denmark. I should be satisfied with such a Government. It represents the people; it does not exploit a conquered nation; it is efficient; the people under it are cultured intellectual, manly, contented, and happy; it supports no large army and navy to keep others in imperial subjection."

"But," I answered, "do you think empires are inherently bad? Surely the Roman Empire was a benefit to civilisation. Christ never said a word against it as far as we know."

"Quite so," he replied, "but it was not His business to inveigh against imperialism. Every great reformer has to struggle against the special evil of his age. Jesus, Mohammed, Buddha, and in a lesser way Luther, had their own evils and difficulties to contend with peculiar to their age. So have we. Now it is imperialism that is the great Satan of our times."

"So you are out to destroy the Empire?" I asked.

"I would not put it that way," he answered. "I only wish to destroy the Empire by creating a commonwealth. I do not wish for complete separation from England: we have no right to wish for it."

"What is your definition of this commonwealth to which India shall belong; what is to be its structure?"

"It is to be a fellowship of free nations joined together by the "silver cords of love." (I think it is Lord Salisbury's phrase.) Such a fellowship already exists or many parts of the Empire. Look at South Africa, what fine fellows there are there! Australia—fine fellows! And New Zeaand —a splendid land and a fine people! I would have India enter freely into such a fellowship, and with the same rights of equality for Indians as for other members of the Commonwealth.

"But surely that is just the very aim that the Government has for India: to become a self-governing unit in the Empire as soon as she is ready for the responsibility. Is not this the whole meaning of the Montagu reforms?"

"Ah," said the Mahatma, shaking his head, "I am afraid I do not believe in those reforms. When they were first introduced I rejoiced and said to myself, "Here at last is a small ray of light in the darkness—just a small chink,—but I will go forward to meet it." I welcomed it; I fought my own people to give it a fair chance. I said this is a sign of true repentance on the part of the Government. When the war broke out I went about speaking at recruiting meetings, because I thought the Government did really mean to give us what they promised. It is only a small beginning, I thought, but I will wait and see. I will humble myself, make myself small to go through this narrow opening. But events have changed me. Then came the Punjab atrocities, then the Khilafat question, and finally all the repressive actions of the Government, and now I can believe in the reforms no longer. They were a mere blind, a camouflage, to prolong the agony. That is why I call the Government satanic and why I refuse to cooperate wih it in any way."

THE KHADI CAMPAIGN.

From the subject of Non-Cooperation the conversation passed naturally enough to the question of the boycott of foreign goods and the great khadi (or home-spin) campaign. Here the Mahatma's face lit up, his eyes shone with enthusiasm. "Of all my plans and foibles, of all my weaknesses and fanaticisms, or whatever you like to call them, khadi is my pet one" "This," he said touching the rough homespun shwal over his shoulder, "this is sacred cloth. Think what it means. Imagine the thousands and hundreds of thousands of homes in the famine areas. When the famine comes they are stricken down; they are helpless. They do nothing in their homes—can do nothing—they wait and die. If I can introduce the spinning-wheel into these homes their lives are assured; they can earn enough money with the sale of their home-spu to tide them over the famine.

"This coarse stuff," he went on, fingering it gently, almost caressingly, "is dearer and finer to me than the softest silks of Japan. Through it I am bound nearer to millions of my humble and starving countrymen. Look at the cloth you are wearing," and he pointed to my white machine-made serge, "when you buy that you put one or two annas into the hand of the workman and six or seven into the pocket of the capitalist. Now look at mine. All the money I spend on this goes straight into the hands of the poor—to the weaver, the spinner, and the carder,—and not a pice into the hands of the rich man. To know this fills me with a heavenly joy. If I can act thus, if I can introduce the spinning-wheel into every cottage in India, then I shall be satisfied for this life: I could go on with my other schemes in my next if it pleased God."

"What do you mean?" I asked, not quite sure of the drift of his last remarks. "You think we come back again to this earth?"

"Yes," he replied. "I think we all come back here again if we are not pure enough to go to heaven. You see," he went on, smiling "it is the same principle we are talking about before. "Render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's"—the body must give back to the earth the things that are of the earth before the soul can give itself absolutely to God: or, rather, the soul must refuse to cooperate with the things of this earth; it must become quite free from any earthly desires and entanglements."

THE KILLING OF ANIMALS.

"And do you believe animals have souls too?"

"Of course," he replied. "It is the same with them; they, too, must learn to give back to Caesar the things which are Caesar's. That is why as Hindus we do not kill animals; we leave them free to work out their own destinies."

"Then you think it is wrong to kill even such things as snakes, scorpions, and centipedes?"

"Yes," he said, "we never kill them at our Ashram. It is a high stage in the development of the soul to feel a love for all humanity, but it is a higher stage still to feel a heart of love for every living thing. I confess," he went on, "that I have not reached this stage. I still feel afraid when I actually see these creatures come near me. If we have no fear at all. I do not think they will harm us." (I might mention here an incident related to me by one of Gandhi's followers. At evening prayer one day at his Ashram a cobra came through the dusk and crawled right on to Mr. Gandhi, raising its head in front of him. His followers were going to catch it, but he signed to them to be still. He remained motionless himself and the reptile slid over his kness and went back into the garden.)

"I met an Englishman once," continued the Mahatma, still on the subject of our relation to the animal world. "He was a veterinary surgeon and had a wonderful way with animals. We were visiting a house together, and suddenly a gigantic brute of a dog rushed towards us, fierce as a lion, and raised himself up almost to the height of a man as he flung himself at us. I was petrified with fear, but this Englishman went forward to meet it as it charged, and embraced it without a trace of fear. Its anger evaporated at once and it began wagging its tail. It impressed me very much: that is the true way of meeting animals by non-resistance."

"But do you not think a man's life is worth more than an animal's. Take yourself now. You are the leader o a great movement which you believe to be for the good of your country. Supposing you were confronted by a crocodile and you could only escape by injuring it, would not you think your duty and responsibility as a leader were more important than the life of that reptile?"

"No, I should say—or at least I ought to say—to this crocodile, "Your need is greater than mine," and let it devour me. You se, our life does not finish with the death of the body. God knows all about it. We none of us know what will happen next. If I escaped the crocodile I could not escape the flash of lightning that might come next minute."

"But surely," I urged, a man's soul is different from that of a crocodile—if it has one at all. You remember what Chesterton says about it, "When a man is taking his sixth whiskey and soda, and is beginning to lose control over himself, you come up to him and give him a friendly tap on the shoulder and say, "Be a man." But when the crocodile is finishing his sixth missionary you do not step up to it and tap it on the back and say, "Be a crocodile." Doesn't this show a man has an ideal in him to strive after in a way no animal has?"

"True," said the Mahatma laughing, "there is a difference between the souls of men and of animals. Animals live in a sort of perpetual trance; but man can wake up and become conscious of God. God says, as it were, to man. "Look up and worship Me; you are made in My image."

THE SOULS OF ANIMALS.

"And the souls of animals where do they come from?" I queried. "Do you think the soul of a man can become the soul of an animal?"—

"Yes," he replied. "I think all these horrible and evil creatures are inhabited by the souls of men who have gone wrong—snakish men, greedly, unmerciful crocodile men, and so on."

"But look at the infinite number of animals, the countless millions upon millions of insects, to mention only one group of the animal kingdom: are they all souls—the mosquitos, the sandflies, the microbes?"

"Who are we," he answered, "to set a limit to God's sphere of action: are there not countless other suns and planets in this universe?"

It was time for me to go, for I had another appointment, so at this point I rose to take my leave. I went to the edge of the little carpet on the verandah where we had been sitting and began to put on my shoes (for I had removed them, Eastern fashion being in a manner his guest).

As I lifted one shoe I saw a spider in it "See," I said to him, laughing as I shook out the loathsome thing, and, resisting the impulse to crush it, let it run away. "Look; it has been sent me, as a temptation, to try if I have profited by your sermon."

He laughed—he has an infectious and hearty laugh—and said. "Yes, a spider may be a great matter. Don't you remember the story of Mohammed and the spider?"

I confessed my ignorance, wondering vaguely if he had got the story muddled up with Robert Bruce.

"Yes," he said, "one day Mohammed was fleeing from his enemies in great danger. In desperation he turned into a sort of cave in the rock. A few hours afterwards the pursuers came along. "Ah," said one, "let's look in here; this is a likely place." "No." replied the other, "he couldn't be in here, for, see, there is a spider's web across the entrance." Not realising how recently it had been spun they passed on and so Mohammed escaped by the help of the spider and the will of Allah."

While he had been telling this his friend and fellow-prisoner, Mr. Banker, had brought him his churka or spinning-wheel. As I bade "Goodbye" to the Mahatma he was just settling down to the daily duty, shared by all his followers (in theory if not in practice), of spinning or weaving a certain amount each day.

As I reached the end of the verandah I turned for a last look. There was this unassuming-looking little man, dressed with less ceremony than the meanest coolie, squatting cross-legged in front of his churka, spinning away as contentedly as Mohammed's spider. Was he, I wondered, spinning a web that was to save the Indian peasant from the menace of an industrial system untinged with even a veneer of Christian ethics; or was he himself caught in the centre of a vast web of illusions, spun from his own extraordinary brain, into which he had drawn hundreds and thousands of his ignorant and emotional countrymen?

PREMIER'S BETRAYAL

HOW TO EASE THE SITUATION

MADRAS LIBERALS' DEMANDS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

MADRAS, August 11.

At a general meeting of the Madras Liberal League with Dewan Bahadur Govindaraghva Aiyar in the Chair the following resolutions were unanimously passed:—

The Madras Liberal League considers that the effect of Lloyd George's highly provocative and most objectionable speech in the House of Commons would be to deepen the distrust of India in the British pledges and professions and shatter hopes in England's good faith and sense of justice. It protests strongly against the views expressed by the Premier as they amount to a virtual repudiation of the announcement of August 20th 1917. The League further believes that the crisis even graver than the present would be created in India if the Premier's betrayal of her interests by the thwarting of her legitimate ambitions is not immediately repudiated.

With a view to ease the already difficult situation in this country and to maintain confidence of the people in the integrity and the declared high purpose of the British rule in India it is necessary:

(a) that all political prisoners not guilty of or charged with violence or incitement to violence should be released as early as possible;

(b) that immediate steps should be taken for complete realisation of the ideal of responsible Government in India,

(c) that recommendations made recently by the heads of provinces in India and by His Excellency Lord Reading concerning the settlement of the Turkish question should be adopted in their entirety.

(2) The Liberal League is shocked at the reports given in the public press about the treatment of the political prisoners in various parts of India and demands that laws and regulations should be changed to an extent found necessary so as to ensure that provincial Governments will adopt and carry out the recommendations made recently by the Bombay Legislative Council according to which such prisoners as are not charged with or convicted of offences against the State accompanied by violence to person or property or incitement to such offences should be treated like the first class misdemeanants in England.

EYE OPENER TO MODERATES.

We publish below Mr. B. N. Motivala's view on the Premier's speech:—

To Moderates, the Premier's speech has appeared to be a bolt from the blue. To Nationalists, it has caused no surprise. The British Government has played the part of a time-server wonderfully well. British statesmen are consummate opportunists; and the arch-opportunist is our present Premier. Lord Curzon played the part of a juggler when he tried to misread the Queen's Royal Proclamation. Since that time Indians have become sceptical regarding their faith in the utterances of British statesmen. Mr. Lloyd George acting as the most responsible mouthpiece of the British Government had given a solemn pledge to Mahomedans during the time of the great War, and it is recent history how that pledge has been outrageously violated The same Mr. Lloyd George has now come forward and in his capacity of the Premier has given utterance to sentiments of such a nature that they have really served as an eye-opener to all Indians, be they of whatever political persuasion. Before the Premier's speech, barring the microscopic minority of Moderates, Indians of all shades of political opinion had lost all faith in British justice. The late Lokmanya Tilak cherished an unflinching faith in British justice, but the decision in his case against Sir Valentine Chirol shattered it to pieces. Mahatma Gandhi's faith similarly gave way when he found that the British Democracy had woefully failed to redress the great national wrongs of the Punjab and the Khilafat. Indians, in their turn shared in this disillusion of their great leaders; to them the Premier's speech has acted as a confirmation of their belief; but the speech has shattered even the hopes of the Moderate party. In a sense, I welcome the speech at the present juncture because it will act as a good cementing force between the different political parties in India. India has out-grown the stage of having reforms by compartments. A time has come when the whole nation with one voice should present an united front to the British Government. The Premier has deliberately insulted the whole nation. In the sentiments uttered by him we get an inkling of the inner mind of the British Cabinet. To put matters quite bluntly, the Premier has questioned the propriety of the transplanting of Western representative institutions to India and has boldly dared to assert that the Montagu-Chelmsford Reforms granted under the Declaration of August 20th, 1917, constitute merely an experiment. He has thought it fit to do so merely to please the Indian Civil Service. Nothwithstanding Lord Winterton's denial of the interpretation put upon the Premier's speech by Col. Wedgewood. I see an ominious sign in the Premier's speech. To my mind, it is a distinct revelation revealing the naked truths that England governs India not for the benefit of India but for its own aggrandizement, that India exists for the Civil Service and not the Civil Service for India and that Indians must give up all hopes of attaining full responsible Government for many many years to come. A whole nation's thanks are due to Mahatma Gandhi's supreme efforts in having evolved a great political conscience in millions of his countrymen and countrywomen within a very short period. The Premier's warning cry has enraged many of our Moderate friends. I trust they will not rest satisfied with that. My earnest appeal to them is that they should lost no time in endeavouring their level best to reconcile their differences with their nationalist brethren. The Nationalists by suffering all hardships bravely and cheerfully have carried on the national struggle for freedom vigorously. Is it now patriotic to allow what has been already gained by so much self-sacrifice in the political field to run to waste? All are agreed as to the goal; why then waste national time, energy and money in carrying on the sacred struggle in different groups? The present great political struggle is very keenly watched through-out the world. I pray the Almighty to grant us soon Swarajya: but while I do, I am reminded of the ancient proverb that God helps those who help themselves. If the Premier's speech achieves the object of closing up the divided counsels of Indian politicians it will be recorded by a future historian that it was a blessing in disguise. Time alone will show whether this valuable opportunity is availed of or not by our politicians.

BREACH OF FAITH.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

MADRAS, August 11.

Interviewed by the "Swarajya" representative regarding the premier's speech in the House of Commons, Mr. T. Rangacharair, leader of the Democratic party in the Legislative Assembly stated as follows:—

"It is a most disquieting and uncalled for utterance the Punjab tragedy of 1919 followed by the vote of the House of Lords and the trend of the debate in the House of Commons on General Dyer very nearly destroyed the faith of the Indian people in the British nation and such success as the Non-Co-operation movement attained among the masses was due entirely to this loss of faith at a time when things are tending towards restoration of that faith and the more responsible people among the leaders are earnestly endeavouring to work out a constructive programme rather than a destructive one, this amazing speech has come as a great disturbing factor.

INDIA'S RESENTMENT.

One of the charges against the British which is very largely believed in by the masses is that their statements do not mean what they say and that at any rate they do not intend to carry out what they profess. After the proclamation of 1917, followed by the enactment of the Government of India Act and the preamble thereto of 1919, taken with His Majesty's gracious message at the opening of the Indian legislatures sent through his august uncle the Duke of Connaught, with the word "Swaraj" sanctified as it were by the royal seal, it is idle for any stateman however, great he may be, unless he wishes to break the empire, to pretend that what has been begun under the Government of India Act is but an experiment and not an earnest beginning towards the goal already determined upon. If what has been uttered by the Premier is to be taken as it is bound to be, as an index to the mind of the British nation as to what they intend to do with India, all idea of attaining Swaraj within the empire by co-operation and by steady progress will have to be abandoned by the sanest among Indian politicians. All of us are agreed as to the goal to be attained. The only difference amongst us is with regard to the pace. The Prince and people of India are bound to join together in attaining that goal and if this speech means a menace to such an end, they cannot but resent it

I. C. S. A FALSE ALARM.

The cry about the Indian Civil Service and other Imperial Services is altogether uncalled for. As a writer in the "Capital" pointed out some weeks ago, one has only to compare civil lists of two years ago and the present day and it will be found that there is absolutely no reason for any apprehension that the Indianisation of the Services is going to be a reality or to attain substantial growth for several years to come All that we are bent upon is to see that Indianisation is not merely in words but that it is followed by action. This cry is purely artificial and there is no occasion for it. I do not think that the apprehension is really shared by responsible members of the distinguished services, who have done so much for India. Afew diemhards seem to have gained the ear of the Prime Minister, who apparently, has not closely studied the question.

A BREACH OF FAITH.

A breach of faith with the Indian people in either respect, as Sir Valentine Chirol has pointed out in a recent thoughtful article which he has contributed to the "quarterly review," would be the surest means of bringing about the separation of that connection with the British nation, which the Prime Minister has so much at heart. In the interests of the people of this country, I am sure all parties in the Indian legislature will at the next sessions, give their earnest consideration to this speech and take necessary action to rouse the British nation to a sense of the grave danger likely to arise out of it and I am also sure Lord Reading's Government, reactionary as it may be believed to be, will not endorse the sentiment contained in the Premier's speech.

Commenting on the recent speech of Mr. Lloyd George in the House of Commons "the Young India" says:—"Experience has taught men not to attach too much importance either to the promises or to the threats on thepart of Mr. Lloyd George. He is a consummate tactician and has to struggle against these who attack his coalition."

MADRAS, August 10.

Referring to Lloyd George's speech in the House of Commons Mr. T. V. Seshagiri Iyer, M. L. A., in the course of an interview with the "Swarajya" representative said that no greater disservice could be done to Great Britain and to India than by delivering such speeches wich are sure to weaken the position of persons who wanted to cooprate with Government.

Dewan Bahadur Govindaraghava Iyer, M. L. C., who was also interviewed by the same representative said that it was a breach of promise made to the people of India that they had been put on the road to self-Government.

MINISTER'S SURPRISE.

WHY PATIENTS WERE TURNED AWAY?

SOME SORT OF MISUNDERSTANDING RESPONSIBLE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

POONA CITY, August 11.

The Hon. Dr. Paranjpye, Minister in charge of the Medical Department interviewed to-day about the recent scandal in the J. J. Hospital, Bombay, said that Col. Carter in charge of the J. J. Hospital reported on July 28th last to the Surgeon General with the Government of Bombay that most of the budget grant sanctioned for this year had already been exhausted and that if he was to keep within the sanctioned grant, he could provide for only eighty patients in the hospital. He, therefore, asked for the orders of Government. In his report he had, also, said that if these orders were not received in a week he would be compelled to turn away some patients. His report seems to have been submitted to the Minister for orders only on the 4th of August after having suffered a weeks delay in the Surgeon General's office. As soon as it reached him Dr. Paranjpye sent an express wire to the hospital authorities asking them to continue the existing arrangements until Government orders were received.

The Minister expressed a surprise that in face of such clear instructions patients were turned out and believed some sort of misunderstanding was responsible for it. He also, informed the interviewer that a full report had been called for from Colonel Carter.

NATIONAL LIBERAL FEDER ATION'S PROTEST.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

MADRAS, August 11.

Dewan Bahadur L. A. Govindaraghava Aiyer, President, the National Liberal Federation of India, has sent the following cables to the Premier, the Secretary of State for India, the Reform Committee and to Sir Sivaswami Iyer:—

The National Liberal Federation of India is indignant at the Premier pronouncing the reform scheme but an experiment, protests against he reversal of policy regarding the position of the I. C. S. and Indianisation of services, and urges repudiation to avoid disatrous consequences.

THE "UNDERPAID" I. C. S.

A COMPARISON WITH PUBLIC SERVICES IN OTHER COUNTRIES.

The following extract from Lala Lajpat Rai's book "India's will to Freedom"? (1921) will be read with interest at the present juncture when every one is talking about the Prime Minister's speech:—

"The Government of this country is wasteful and extravagant in the salaries and allowances it allows to its higher service. It would be bankrupt if it met the demands of the subordinate services and lowest rank of its employees also in the same spirit. Consequently to avoid bankruptcy, it sweats its lowest in a way as perhaps no other Government on the face of the earth does. There is no country in the world which pays its higher civil and military service anything like the salaries the Government of India does. In the whole of the United States there is only one man who gets more than 35,000 rupees per annum and that is the President of the United States. In Japan, even the Prime Minister, does not get that amount. In India, there are dozens, mostly Englishmen, who get more than that amount. Compare the salaries post by post, and you will find the standard extravagantly higher in India while the living even now is comparatively cheaper. Yet within the last two or three years the Government has sanctioned enormous increases in these salaries. The worst feature of this situation, however, is the extreme disparity that exists between the salaries of the lowest services and those of the highest. The difference between maximum and the minimum salaries in the United States and Great Britain on the one hand, and India on the other is simply startling. In the United States, the lowest salary allowed to a clerk or a porter in Government Office is from about 1,000 to 1,200 dollars a year, and the highest allowed to a Cabinet Minister is 12,000. In India, a Cabinet Minister gets Rs. 80,000 a year besides allowances while his orderly gets only 120 a year or at the most 180."

PUNJAB COU C

GOVT. EFFORTS TO ALLAY POLITICAL UNREST.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LAHORE, August 10.

At the Punjab Legislative Council to-day after a lengthy debate in which several official members took part, Mian Shah Nawaz's resolution on the construction of the Sind Sagar Canal was passed in an amended form. The amended resolution as adopted by the Council ran as follows:—

This Council recommends to Government to expedite the survey of the final trace and preparation of detailed plans of the Sind Sagar Canal project, with a view to submission of the project to the Government of India and the Secretary of State for sanction and to begin its construction as soon as work on the Sutlej Valley project is well advanced.

Dr. Owen then moved a resolution recommending Government to take such steps as may be feasible to give an enhancement of pension to all civil pensioners drawing an annual pension of between Rs. 240 and 5,000 and failing this, for the present, to appoint a committee consisting of members of this Council to consider the special claims of those few pensioners, who were retired on old scales and rates of pay and who were recommended for, but failed to obtain special additional pension and that pending submission of their report some ad interim relief may be allowed and in doing so he read a lengthy manuscript speech.

Raja Narendranath gave his hearty support to the resolution.

SIMLA SESSIONS.

Mr. Nawabdin Murad then moved a resolution recommending to his Excellency the Governor that the summer session of the Punjab Legislative Council be held at Simla and in doing so he made a short speech amidst repeated laughter, pointing out the discomforts of Hon. Members in Lahore during the summer and remarked that if the session be held at Simla, the cost would not be much, on the other hand there would be many advantages. Several members including Raja Narendranath strongly opposed the resolution. Sir John Maynard made a few remarks explaining the position of Government and said that they were entirely neutral on the subject but informed the Council that a summer season in Simla would cost them an additional sum of Rs 12,000.

Mr Fazli Hussain, Education Minister who spoke as a non-official elected member pointed out to the members the manifold advantages of Simla and remarked that the session at Simla would save the cost of many committee members of the Council. The resolution being put to vote was carried by 35 to 14 votes amidst loud applause of the majority. Four members of Government remained neutral at the time of voting.

At question time to-day Sir John Maynard said that Government desired to abstain from the application or the Seditious Meetings Act, whenever and wherever it was possible to do so without danger to public safety. The calmness in the political situation was due to the measures which had been taken to check lawlessness. In some particular villages it was necessary to maintain these measures yet.

GOVERNMENT AND POLITICAL UNREST.

Maulvi Muharrain Ali Chisti asked, "Will Government be prepared to state what practical work it has done during the last two years to allay the feelings of political discontent among the classes of people who are dissatisfied on political grounds with Government and to reconcile them to enlist their sympathies on its side?"

Sir John Maynard replied, "Government regards the reformed constitution and the large powers exercised by this Council and the deference shown to its wishes as its best means for removal of political discontent. The aspirations of the people for extension of education are being met by a very great expansion in the number of schools and of children undergoing education in the period named. The appointment of a committee on corruption and the action taken upon its report constitute an important step towards removal of those grievances, which arise from corruption in the services. The compensation which is now being distributed to Martial Law sufferers will, it is hoped, be a means of allaying the bitterness of certain memories. By way of recovery of compensation assessed upon the people of Amritsar, Government has sought to work towards the same end. It is not possible to enter into further details within the limit of this answer, but the object of removing reasonable grievances and allaying discontent is kept always in view.

V. M. KAPOLE BOARDING SCHOOL.

SILVER-JUBILEE CELEBRATION.

The Silver-Jubilee of the Seth Varjivandas Madhavdas Kapole Boarding School was celebrated on 6th instant at Madhavbaug, when the place was specially decorated for the occasion. In the evening, a meeting was held under the presidentship of Seth Manmohandas Ramji, when the audience consisted of nearly 300 Kapole ladies and gentlemen.

After the President was voted to the chair, Mr. Khushaldas K. Parekh one of the Secretaries of the institution, read a short history of the Boarding School. The report briefly says:

The institution possesses a fund of Rs. 91,000 and two other trusts, one of Rs. 28,500 in the name of Bai Nandkorebai and the other in the shape of a Building presented by the late Mr. Vandravandas Sunderji. "In all about 150 students have taken advantage of the Boarding School; 93 of them are Graduates and the rest are mostly under-Graduates."

Other speakers, who followed, emphasized the need of education and eulogised the services rendered by the institution to the Kapole community and expressed a strong desire that such institutions may increase in number so that even the poorest student in the community may not go uneducated.

The President winding up the proceedings dwelt at length on the necessity of such institutions and emphasized the need of practical training, so that when the students left the Boarding School they would not have to suffer from the defects of present system of education.

A donation to the value of Rs. 2,000 by the sons of Seth Tribhowandas, the founder of the institution, and another of Rs. 1,000 by his two daughters, a third of Rs. 250 by Mr. M. M. Goradia, an ex-student of the Boarding, and one more of Rs. 100 by Mr. Purushottamdas K. Mulji were then announced. Mr. Mulji Barbhaya, Solicitor, presented the Boarding School Library with 36 volumes of Encyclopaedia Britanica.

J. J. HOSPITAL.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—In regard to medical treatment of patients in J. J. Hospital, especially of my humble-self, I beg to make the following observations to which, I hope, you will kindly give publicity for the benefit of the public.

I had been suffering for the last eighteen months from a very obstinate and chronic sinus due to carries tooth in the alveolar part of the mouth. It was exactly three inches deep, being in close connection with the antrum of highmore on the left side of the upper jaw. I resorted for treatment to various surgeons of name and fame who declared that it was irremediable. Then being eventually helpless I approached Dr. Anandrao K. Dalal, Senior Surgeon of the said hospital, who admitted me a few weeks ago as an in-patient and performed surgical operation on the said sinus so skilfully that it closed and healed up in a short period of twelve days. I, therefore, through the valuable columns of your esteemed journal, beg to invite the attention of those suffering from similar complaints to profit by deep erudition and profound knowledge in anatomy of the aforesaid energetic medical officer of J. J. Hospital.

Secondly, during my long stay of four weeks as an in-patient I noticed that all patients including my humble-self were daily examined by Dr. Dalal and also well treated day and night by the staff of the hospital. But now I am struck with surprise to know the deplorable plight of patients as depicted in your issue of the 8th instant, and am at the same time, glad to learn that usual admission of patients and their treatment are resumed by the authorities. The hospital is no doubt a real boon to suffering humanity in consequence of the efficient management, with which I was entirely satisfied, of the medical staff in general and Dr. Dalal in particular.—Yours, etc.,

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

Aug. 11.

To-day Reuter reports 52 points higher in New York futures. The rise in the market seem to be due to unfavourable weekly Government weather report, and improved trade demand. We think the advance may go further. Our friends Messrs. Umrigar, Vesugar has received the following cable from Messrs. A. Nordan & Co., New York D/ 9th instant:—

"Weekly weather report less favourable than expected, present tendency of market seems downward, our opinion is not sufficiently decided to advice you positively but would prefer to watch. D/ 10th instant:—"It is rumoured that National ginners 67 per cent."

In view of the cheapness of Egyptian compared to American, New York prices we think present moment to be the best opportunity to do straddles by selling New York and buying Egyptian for January delivery.

The Marwari Bazar opened this morning for F. G., M. G. Broach April/May at Rs. 457½ and going down by a rupee and a half advanced to Rs. 458. On selling by a Marwari Shroff at this level the rate declined to Rs. 455. Again on buying by a Japanese House it advanced to Rs. 458 which price ruled at 4 p.m. Wile Broach July/August opened at Rs. 526 and remained Rs. 527 at 4 p.m. Fine M. G. Comra September opened at Rs. 446 and eased to Rs. 443 on selling by an Office. From this level it advanced to Rs. 447 on buying by a Bull operators. FAMINE IN KURNOOL.

A correspondent wires from Kurnool under date 8th August:—

Continuous scarcity of rain has driven thousands to starvation. Government Relief Works maintain nearly 8,000 from about fifty villages. Thousands more are awaiting help, for which public relief works are badly wanted. Pray help to get as much as possible from friends, relatives and general public. The district is poverty-stricken and cannot but look outside for help as at least fifty thousand rupees are wanted to meet the situation. Elaboration of words on a matter of human help is superfluous. Subscriptions and collections may be remitted to Vithaldas Visanji, Khadi Bhandar Princess Street, Editor, "Bombay Samachar" Frere Road, Laksmidas Peethamber, Broker Share Bazar, J. M. Jassawala secretary, David Mill, Navsari Building.

AN APPEAL TO THE MILL OWNERS.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—If anyone has benefited most pecuniarily by the Non-Cooperation movement, it is the mills and the mill agents. Their profits have been enormous and the mills have paid handsome amounts to the agents as commission. The impetus has been so great that many new mills have been put up and extensions on a very large scale have been carried out in the older mills. But with all this many of them cannot stand the temptation of producing Khadi. Some of them are even making Gandhi caps in large numbers. Could they not leave this for the handloom? The production of mill Khadi is so large that it is not possible for the ordinary handloom weavers to compete in prices and the stuff is no doubt rougher than that of the mills. Instead of this if the mills directed their attention to producing cloth which would compete with cloth coming from Manchester they will serve the country both ways.

Again, the ten-hour rule has come into force. This will curtail the production of cloth and yarn. Will not some mill agent come to the rescue? The only remedy lies in putting up more looms either in the mills or in the ginning and pressing factories or in other factories. They will require good-sized yarn to work them. Some mills must undertake to supply sized beams to such small weaving sheds. Japan has looms in every home and Japan may be copied with advantage only if our mills honestly undertake to supply sized beams at moderate profits. Where electric power is available people may make a start with a dozen looms.—Yours, etc.,

COMMERCIAL.

days have intervened and trade has not been of any importance. Hopes are entertained for a good demand from upcountry after the 23rd instant when the "Bhaderwa" month commences, as the monsoon has been favourable and the stocks need replenishment. At present the purchases are being made from hand to mouth, as it is believed that a lower basis of values will be established here in the near future, in sympathy with the easier tendency of the Manchester market. A lot of about two hundred bales of Grey Jaconets for July 1 August shipment is reported to have changed hands in the bazaar at a profit of eight annas per piece to the seller, the buyer in turn realising a gain of twelve annas per piece in selling retail. This let includes 45 and 40 inches widths, but the narrow width is difficult of sale, except for Karachi. Grey Shirtings and Drills have not shown any change. White Shirting and Mulls have been steady but no business of weight has been mentioned. There has been very little life in Nainsooks, specially the 30 inches by 18 yds, style worth Rs. 3 to Rs. 4 per piece. The lower rates ruling for these have reflected on other styles in 26 and 27 inches and values have shown a depression. Comparatively little has been done in Prints, looking to the heavy stock lying unsold since a long time, although for fresh business December shipment time is required. In Pepperell Drills and Liepman's White Shirtings shipments have arrived through two sources, and values have not improved owing to competition. Goods for July shipment bought at cheaper rates have commenced to arrive.

Manchester Market has been quiet specially in Grey Shirtings, as the order lists of makers are running down. Some offers have been cabled but these have been found too low for acceptance. Only a few lines here and there have been booked, there being not much inducement to the buyers, as even in the recent cheap purchases, the margin of profit has been very small.

At the adjourned meeting of the Bombay Native Piece-goods Merchants' Association held on 6th instant, Mr. Munmohandas Ramji, drew the attention of the members to the paragraph appearing in "Times of India" of 2nd instant under the heading of 'Trade and Finance' which runs as follows:—

"A Bradford exporter puts forward drastic proposals in a Home contemporary in connection with the Indian Trade debts. Supporting a report received from a traveller of his firm in India in which conditions in this country are described as "a very long way from being satisfactory," the Bradford merchant suggests:—(1) No documents relating to new business to be negotiated by the Banks with any firm in India who have any old outstandings, An undertaking to be given to the bank by the shipper that any such documents relate to new business entirely, (2) No exporters to entertain any new business from any importer whatsoever, either native or European, until the exporter has been assured by the Eastern Exchange Banks in London that such importer is entirely clear of his old commitments, either shipments or dishonoured drafts, (3) All importers in India, whether native or European, to be obliged to open credit on the other side with the Exchange Banks in London, and unless such credeit is opened by the importer then the London Exchange banks should refuse to negotiate the relative documents and even refuse to send them out for collection. It is pointed out that the majority of exporters in Bradford district are adopting the second suggestion."

Mr. Munmohandas gave a warning to the members to be very careful in their dealings with the Importing Firms and Shippers and not to act individually in such matters, but to bring any such proposal before the Association for advice and necessary joint action. He strongly disapproved the suggestions made by the Bradford merchant, specially at a time when every effort was made by the dealers to clear off the goods. The journal in which this communication appears has rightly stated that if its correspondent's method of rectification were adopted in its entirety an end to all trade might easily be reached. It is well-known that the crisis was brought about by the muddling of exchange by Government. It is also pointed out, that when the Importing firms and shippers were timely requested to join hands in finding some solution, they remained aloof and it is against commercial etiquetter for a responsible merchant to state such suggestions at this time

If these suggestions were by any chance attempted to be put into practice, it will in effect result in the substitution of local made goods for foreign goods, and will induce the merchants who have hitherto not joined in the boycott of foreign goods to introduce and recommend to their customers the use of khaddar or local mill cloths.

The Cloth markets will be closed on Wednesday and Saturday next owing to the "Janmaashtmi" and "Jain" holidays respectively.

FINANCE.

Conditions in the money market remain unchanged and money is still in abundant supply. The Government of India loan has reached the welcome figure of Rs. 33.88 crores and it is confidently expected that before the close, the total subscriptions will exceed Rs. 35 crores. During the week the short term deposit rate was from 3½ to 3¾ per cent. The call money rate is about 2½ per cent there being more lenders this week than borrowers. The Imperial Bank cash balance is down by Rs. 116 lakhs and the Bank rate remains unchanged at 4 per cent. Business during the week was much restricted owing to holidays.

EXCHANGE.

Exchange on London during the early part of the week was at 1 s. 3-5/8d. During the course of the week there was an appreciation and on Wednesday the market improved to 1s. 3-11/16d. on Bills showing, to a small extent, both here and in Calcutta. At the close, however, there was a reaction, the improvement being lost and the rate dropping again to 1s. 3-5/8d. on account of remittances for bullion imports. The American exchange on London improved during the week to dollars 4.46-1/8 but dropped to dollars 4.45¼ and closes at dollars 4.46. The Continental exchanges on London are very unsettled and have depreciated in consequence of the political situation in Europe and uncertainty over the settlement of the German reparations question. The German mark is still worse and the rate now stands at 3,900. Although the undertone of the market is healthy and is not without promise for the future, we do not look for any improvement in the rates during the course of the next few weeks.

GOLD.

The market opened round Rs. 26/13 for ready but the rate dropped in sympathy with the American cross rate and with the decline in the price of the metal in London. The highest and lowest rates touched during the week Rs. 26/13/6 and Rs. 26/10 respectively for ready delivery. This being the settlement week, the off take was better and averages about 20,000 tolas a day, while the stock is estimated at about nine lakhs tolas, including the arrivals by the last mail. The shipments due for arrival against the September settlement are not sufficiently large, and, in view of the present demand, the bears have been covering their sales.

SILVER.

Silver was steady at the opening with the rate round Rs. 92/4; but on weaker advices both from Shanghai and London, the rates gave way and the market closes distinctly easy round Rs. 90/12. The Continent has been a regular seller this week in London and the official Shanghai rate has dropped to 35 4d. with the actual working rate at 3s. 4-7/8d. The principal markets all appear to exhibit a bearish feeling in silver at the present juncture. The off-take in our market averaged about 70 bars a day and the stock is estimated at about 3,500 bars.

SHARES.

Saturday, the 5th, was the only working day on the Stock Exchange during the past week and prices were maintained with very small business passing. It is reported that the Kohinoor mill will pay an ad-interim dividend of Rs. 80 less income tax. As this appeared generally to be considered a poor return for shares of which the price was nearly Rs. 3,000 the quotation for these shares has slipped back from Rs. 2,900 to Rs. 2,750.

In the miscellaneous section, Tata steel deferreds suffered a further setback to Rs. 177/8 from Rs. 195. Trams kept steady round Rs. 126. Imperial Bank shares were in demand round Rs. 1,357/8 and the contributories round Rs. 355. Railway shares continue steady with more buyers than sellers.

The following are the closing rates of the 5th instant.

Market closed quiet with small business.

YARN MARKET.

Aug. 11.

The market continued dull and uneventful throughout the week and due to absence of demand from consuming centres, prices have given way to some extent all round. The continued decline in raw cotton rates in New York and Liverpool has made the spot market easy which in turn has created weakness in yarns. Weak holders seem inclined to dispose off their holdings at the best available market rate as they have no confidence in the present prices. As a rule in such a state of the market, buyers are difficult to find except at considerably reduced prices.

English and Japanese yarns have been easier this week and prices have further declined by about ¼ anna per lb. in some cases. Japanese 40s. has touched Rs. 1-10-0 per lb where as 40/2 English find no buyers even at 1-14-0. Offers from Japan and Manchester show slight reduction there but fresh forward business is not at all possible owing to comparatively lower prices here.

Indian Mill yarns have experienced further decline with no buyers at present rates. Demand from all centres is very slack. Calcutta, Madras and Rangoon are reported quiet. China has ceased buying and shippers have been eager sellers but find no buyers except at much reduced rates. Some Mills who have sold for distant deliveries do not entertain offers for fresh business at any lower rates whereas others though inclined to sell do not obtain suitable limits from buyers.

The position of the market seems too uncertain to be judged. Much however will depend upon movements in raw cotton as well as on demand. It is thought it will still take about a fortnight's time for good demand to spring up which if proves true, might further effect some decline in prices in the meantime.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

During the week under review Home Markets show a continuance of downward tendency both in Liverpool and New York. The heavy decline was mainly due to reports of poor trade support at present, unfavourable political situation in Europe, improved weather reports, good rain in large part of Texas and Oklahama and unfavourable trade prospects and increasing heavy hedge selling, in face of these main influences, absence of buying power and poor trade demand it looks as if the market may still decline further in the near future. But at the same time we may draw our friends attention that the present month is very critical for the growing American crop with probability of serious damage that may be done to it by boll-weevils, and in that case on any such reliable reports as well as improved trade demand, we may see a rapid advance in prices. On the whole after the recent continued decline we think that we may see a reaction in near future which would prove temporary. Here in our markets prices have been kept relatively high by Bull operators in the August Broach and September Oomra contracts. With any further material decline in America the Bulls might see themselves forced to liquidate their holdings which would probably mean a heavy break in prices.

Our market for ready cotton remained dull and quiet during the week and the demand was moderate. About 7,444 bales are reported to have changed hands.

I. C. S. BEST FRIEND OF N. C. O.!

"The Servant of India" writes:—

If the Civil Disobedience Committee experienced at Guntur the most enthusiastic reception of their tour, thanks for it are primarily due to the folly of the local bureaucrats. Before the Committee's visit Guntur had shown for a considerable time no more signs of excitement. The Provincial Governor's visit had been welcomed and satisfaction was expressed by him that the District had recovered its equilibrium after the "no rent" campaign of January last. There was therefore no justification for the Sub-Divisional Magistrate to issue an order under Section 144 of the Criminal Procedure Code prohibiting the entry into Guntur of various volunteers from outside the district and of their taking part in meetings and demonstrations in Guntur or within a radius of ten miles of the Municipality. The non-cooperators did not propose to disobey this order and issued instructions accordingly to organisations outside the district. But as the order did not apply to volunteers within the district they went to the railway station to welcome the Committee where they were indiscriminately arrested by the police. Later, it appears, the police pulled down the pandal where addresses were to be presented to the visitors—an unworthy exhibition of pettiness. The so-called "strong" man of the I. C. S. of the type of the Guntur Collector is the best friend of the Non-Cooperation movement. When having spent itself it is about to die, he gives it life by his blunders of repression. And yet we are told the average member of the I. C. S. is an administrative genius to whom the highest salaries in the world are not a sufficient remuneration!

A vacancy having occurred in the Legislative Assembly by reason of the acceptance by the Governor-General of the resignation of his office by Sir Vithaldas Damodar Thackersey, Kt. a member elected to the said Assembly by the Bombay Millowners' Association (Indian Commerce), the Governor-General is pleased to call upon the Bombay Millowners' Association (Indian Commerce) to elect, in accordance with the said rules, a person for the purpose of filling the said vacancy on or before the 4th September 1922.

MARWADI KSHATRIYA SAMMELAN AT JODHPUR.

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.)

JODHPUR, Aug. 9.

The first session of the Marwari Kshatriya Sammelan was held at Jodhpur on 22nd, 23rd and 24th ultimo in a beautiful pandal built within the Hazeli of Sehwas Thakor Saheb. This conference was due to the self-sacrificing spirit and laudable generosity of Mr. Dayaram Roopram who made excellent arrangements for the lodging and boarding of the representatives that came to attend the Sammelan from almost all districts of Marwar, Rajputana. The meeting was graced by a large number of delegates, as well as by prominent State Officials and many leading members of other sister communities. The historian Munshi Devipra-sad and Professor K. Ram Bhatji in course of their speeches dwelt on the greatness of the Kshatriyas from an historical point of view and the bright future before them. Residency Vakil Pandit Balkrishan Sharma and many other speakers spoke at length on social questions and female education. At night Pandit Jagdishingh Gonlot, Editor, "Saini Shubhchintak," a well-known worker of Marwar delivered an impressive speech exhorting the Rajputs to renounce drinking of wine and meat eating. This had an immediate effect, as a resolution was unanimously passed to excommunicate the man who would in future go against the resolution. Many other important resolutions were passed.

CITY'S MILK SUPPLY.

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—As the Corporation has appointed an officer with a title of Milk Controller recently, it would not be out of place to enquire as to what would be the duties, functions, powers and responsibilities of the person holding the abovementioned newly created post and whether he will be in a position to ensure pure and cheap milk supply to the city.

It will be remembered that some time back there was no "milk license" but the same was introduced by the efforts of the indefatigable Municipal officer of the tiger brand fame, who occupied the post of a Superintendent of Licenses. Whether the object of the said officer was to increase the municipal revenue and thus earn the praises of his superior officers, or whether he intended to improve the milk supply as it then existed is a problemetical question. But practical facts are these that the milk supply of the city has remained almost the same in quality, taken as a whole, in spite of the colossal list of municipal prosecutions, fines and convictions of the gowlies and such other milk vendors; that the coffers of the municipality have assumed larger proportions; and that rise of more than hundred per cent has taken place in the price of this indispensable article of daily consumption. In 1914 milk used to sell at three annas per seer, where as now the general price for ordinary milk is six annas, while good milk to be purchased from stables and other dealers is to be had at seven annas a seer. Those who want boiled milk from hotel keepers are charged annas eight per seer, over and above the charges for sugar if they want to sweeten their mouths.

Now milk is considered to be the most essential article of food in as much as it is very tasteful, easily digestable and tonic and healthy. But with prices raging so high, thanks to the profiteernig instincts of our milk vendors and to the inertia and indifferent policy of the guardians of public health and welfare, is it any wonder that an ordinary human being finds himself deprived of the rights of having milk for his diet? The question is, if there is an appreciable decline in the prices of all other materials of diet, why should there not be a proportionate decrease in the price of milk also? But the question is allowed to find its own solution. There is none to checkmate the greed and get-rich-quick propensities of the milk vendors. It is the duty of the state and other kindred institutions to look to the welfare of the citizens. And welfare does not consist only in looking after questions of housing accommodation, protection of person and property and the establishment of cooperative credit societies. An efficient control over the manner in which necessities of life are being sold also forms part of the duties and responsibilities of those who claim to be the guardians of public welfare.

But the methods of present day civilization have made the management of certain affairs too costly, and for this very reason profiteers do not hesitate to carry on their nefarious trade with impunity.

It is our sad experience that whenever any official measures are adopted in order to prevent trade immoralities the public are benefitted to an insignificant extent only, whereas the advantages that they derive are out-balanced by their sufferings consisting of inefficient redress of their grievances and the payment of additional charges due to additional taxation.

If the Development Department of the Government were to construct an adequate number of milch cattle stables in and out of the city area and allow the use of the same to merchants on moderate or nominal rents, if Railways were compelled to provide facilities to milk vendors for bringing their milk and hay for their animals on concessional rates, if the scale of taxation is reduced so as to serve public purpose only and not to suit the convenience of official treasury, if better supervision is exercised, if more cheap milk shops are opened and maintained from municipal and other charitable funds and if disinterested efforts are made by philanthrophic persons who should put their heads and hands together and devise means of establishing dairies and large milk shops, not with the desire of earning huge profits but with the sole and sincere aim of serving the public and getting just enough or a little more than the actual cost, then and then only the present intolerable state of affairs would cease. Otherwise there is no knowing to what limits the instincts of our profiteers and together with them the high prices of milk would reach.

Mere appointments of milk controllers would not bring about the desired effect, but on the contrary milk will be more dear and more beyond the reach of the poor. Let us hope, our City Fathers, the Government and the patriotic and philaathrophic citizens and leaders will bestir themselves betimes and do the needful as early as possible.—Yours, etc.,

MRS. COUSINS' TRIBUTE TO LOKMANYA.

Speaking at Coconada at a public meeting held on the Tilak Day, Mrs. Cousins, of Adyar, said that as a friendly foreigner she was glad to praise a very great man which the world had produced. She knew him well while he was in Ireland. He was a very great selfless man who worked in a cause for which her husband, herself and many others were working in Ireland. As a spokeswoman for her Indian sisters she was glad to say that Lok. Tilak always supported woman franchise and compulsory education for both sexes. She wanted that in the scheme now drafted in Coconada for the compulsory free elementary education for boys, provision should be made equally for girls as well.

THE MORAL.

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—On reading the speech of Mr. Lloyd George anyone would be led to think that he is living in the Dark Ages and not in the twentieth century in which Mr. L. George and his gang of "peace-makers" have made the word safe for democracy. Mr. L. George by his recent utterance has out-rivailed, at least in speech, mighty Caesars and mightier Kaisers. He has put the Czars of Russia into shade by his "marvellous" speech. The sum and substance of his speech is that India must for ever remain in slavery under the British Civil Service. The cry of the employment of "our Boys" is again to the front. India seems to exist for these "Boys" and they must be employed in India at India's expense. The Government of India may well soothe the Moderates by tall talk about the Indianisation of the Services, but Mr. Lloyd George in simple language has distinctly said that the British Civil Service shall remain in India for ever ond if its position of mastery be threatened the Reforms shall be withdrawn. This threat of withdrawing the Reforms may perhaps bring the Moderates to their knees, because according to the Moderates, the Reforms have created a paradise on earth for Indians.

Another utterance of Mr. Lloyd George is quite a novel piece of news to all self-respecting Indians. He says that the British Civil Service holds "a trust on behalf of the people of India." Will Mr. Lloyd George show the Trust Deed? Will these self-appointed trustees show their credentials? Are they at all trusted by Indians—even by the Moderates?—No, certainly not. The interests of these self-appointed trustees and of the ward are quite antagonistic. Now, sir, in the next sentence Mr. Lloyd George says that these self-appointed trustees are uneasy at "the effect the changes may have upon their own prospects and conditions." These two statements are contradictory. If any one be a trustee for another, he has not to look to his own interest but to that of his ward and so these words unconsciously bring to light the "political hypocrisy" of these so-called trustees. These two sentences read together mean that the British Civil Servants come to India in the capacity of "birds of prey and passage."

Lastly Mr. Lloyd George gave utterance to an entirely false statement. He said, "They (the English) have made great sacrifices for India." This is nothing short of adding insult to injury. Dadabhai Naoroji in his well-known book gives a reply to this false statement. "The drain is not all. All the wars by which the British Indian Empire is built up have not only been fought mainly with Indian blood, but every farthing of expenditure incurred in all the wars and proceedings within and beyond the frontiers of India by which the Empire has been built up and maintained up to the present day has been extracted from the Indian people Britain has spent nothing. There is the great injustice that every expenditure incurred even for British interests is charged to India." Again he says, "England has made herself rich by plundering India in diverse subtle and ingenious ways." Will you, Mr. Editor, kindly show the sacrifices of England for India? The result of England's sacrifices for India has been, to use the words of Dadabhai again, "British—made famines and poverty."

This speech must have disillusioned all who thought of having "Swaraj" as a gift from Britain. The moral to be drawn from Mr. Lloyd George's speech is that "Nations by themselves are made."—Yours, etc.

BOMANJI RUSTAMJI MUNSHI.

"MAKES THE UNFIT—FIT AND THE FIT—FITTER."

SAYS JIMMY WILDE IN REFERRING TO THE WONDERFUL PROPERTIES OF ALKIA SALTRATES.

Some valuable training secrets divulged by the all-conquering little Welsh wonder, world's champion boxer at his weight. Tells the best way to cure Liver, Kidney and Rheumatic Disorders so they never come back.

I have often been asked to explain the training methods which kept me constantly in such absolutely perfect physical trim that I was able to win five consecutive world's championship contests during a period of about one year. My doctor once told me that "liverishness," mental or physical languor, stomach acidity and dyspepsia, catarrh, backache, neuralgia, rheumatism, gout, sciatica, etc., etc., all arise simply from the accumulation of impurities in the system. No one can possibly doubt the truth of this, and it is at least equally obvious that the one sure and only way to get rid of the complaints quickly and permanently is to clear the impurities out. To do this you must stimulate and thoroughly cleanse the organs of filtration and elimination, thus immediately purifying the blood and preventing the absorbtion of further poisons. The self-poisoning process is the direct cause of most serious ailments. To make and keep the whole body absolutely sound and healthy, the mind clear and alert, eyes bright and nerves steady as steel, simply drink occasionally, before breakfast, a glass of saltrated water, prepared by adding a level teaspoonful, or less, of Alkia Saltrates, which is obtainable at little cost from any good chemist. This produces a refreshing and pleasant-tasting tonic-aperient drink, which is not for a moment to be confused with such things as common kidney-irritating salts or nerve-depressing salines, "morning powders," and similar patent medicines. It actually reproduces in highly concentrated form the essential curative constituents found in the waters of the world-famous natural medicinal springs, and in my own case I have certainly proved it to be far better than a visit to any Spa, but without the trouble, heavy expense and loss of time that such a journey entails.

"DOES NON-CO-OPERATION INVOLVE HATRED ?"

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir.—Men may not fight for saving their own property. Men may not fight for saving their own lives even. Religiously inclined men may avoid fighting if it involves bloodshed even when their properties are plundered and lives are threatened. There are men who sacrifice their own lives to avoid bloodshed. But men often fight and sacrifice their lives and properties for the sake of humanity. Said Eugene Debs, the great American who once tried to establish the kingdom of love, in his address to court:—"I have often wondered if I could take the life of my own fellow men even to save my own." But he fought and suffered for humanity without bloodshed. Twenty centuries ago there was one appeared on earth as all know as Prince of love and peace. He said 'love one another.' He espoused the cause of the suffering poor—and the poor heard him gladly. It was not long before he aroused the hatred of usurers, the money-lenders, the profiteers, the high priests, the lawyers, the judges, the merchants, the bankers, in a word the ruling class. He was accused of preaching dangerous doctrine and inciting the common rabble. His mission of Love and Peace, they said, was menace to peace and order. And they had him arraigned, tried, convicted, condemned and they had his body spiked to the gates of Jerusalem. He did not fight for his life to avoid bloodshed. But he won a great victory over his opponents for the salvation of the suffering poor. Now where do you locate hatred? In the mind of those who spiked the saviour of mankind or in the mind of the saviour himself? When Hazrat Mahammad fought for humanity he was accused of hatred, persecuted and driven from Mecca. Mahatma Gandhi said "Love one another." He espoused the cause of the suffering poor. His mission was love and salvation through suffering, if you want peace. The bureaucracy said he was preaching dangerous doctrine and inciting the common rabble. Mahatma Gandhi knew that Bardoli resolution would make his arrest doubly sure, but preferred his own incarceration to repetition of such blood-shed as took place in Bombay, Madras and Chauri Chaura. The inevitable happened. The Bardoli resolutions were taken advantage of, he was arrested and convicted on his own statement. Can any reasonable man find any trace of hatred in such a heavenly mind? Non-violent Non-Co-operation is a bloodless war for the salvation of the suffering poor. The slogan is "suffer" "suffer" and "suffer" and earn salvation through suffering, if you want to see the kingdom of love established upon the face of the earth. Now the poor are exploited by the few and they are persecuted even if they non-violently non-cooperate with them and refuse to be exploited. Now where lies the hatred? Preaching of universal brotherhood by the non-cooperators has aroused hatred and ill-will of the exploiters and oppressors of the poor and their co-adjutors. One who says that Non-Cooperation is another name of hatred deceives none but himself. Non-Cooperation aims at the emancipation of millions of the suffering poor from the oppression of the few. It is a work of love with reference to both the oppressed and oppressors. Non-Cooperation teaches the oppressed and the oppressors to love each other. It preaches equality, justice and universal brotherhood and not hatred. Non-Cooperators are worshippers of truth and nothing is further from truth than hatred. If Non-Cooperation succeeds in making India safe for the poor, no historian will record its achievements as work of hatred. Non-Cooperation involves fatherhood of God and brotherhood of man and not hatred. Those who are interested in resisting Swaraj in India and those who want Swaraj for the benefit of themselves and the class to which they belong cannot but see hatred in the work of those who are fighting, suffering and sacrificing everything they have for the salvation of the suffering humanity.—Yours, etc.,

"THE MOUTH OF THE PANEGYRIST."

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—Munshi Mahmood Khan, Professor, Fergusson College, has already reviewed briefly the Arabic poem composed by Prof. A. M. Maulvi, M. A. (Arabic) of Dharwar College, in praise of H. E. Sir George Lloyd and recited by him at the Khandvani Mansion, Poona. The learned reviewer has trenchantly pointed out the true merits of the poem, namely, that it is "full of untruths and grammatical mistakes," and we hope that the same must have been realised by his Excellency who is acquainted with Arabic. He must have felt highly amused to hear himself being depicted as "having no equal in the world" and "Lord of the Lords of the Fortune". The performance betrays utter ignorance on the part of the composed of even the elementary rules of Prosody. The very measure which has been selected is, as a rule, never employed in Arabic poetry for writing Qasidas, though generally used in Persian. In fact it appears to be a favourite measure with the learned Professor for it is the same in which he wrote some years ago a Persian panegyric in praise of the Hon. Sir Ibrahim Rahimtullah, the opening couplet of which speaks volumes of its merits. It runs thus:—

"Ai Sunniyan, Ai Sunniyan, Ai Shiiyyan, Ai Shiiyyan, Sad sad mubarak Sunniyan, sas sad mubarak Shiiyyan."

Every one who reads these poems will surely condemn the attempt on the part of the panegyrist Professor—himself an officer to indulge in such meaningless and flattering praise of higher officers.—Yours, etc.,

In the centre of the Planchette is fixed an electrified magnetic compound having full SPIRITUAL and MESMERIC power. (This is the special pattern of Professor N.P. Kotie. The Planchette is then placed upon a sheet of white paper and two persons lay their hands lightly upon it, not in any way influencing its motion hen one of them or a third person, asks a question, and the wheels move The Planchette traverses the paper, and the pencil, of course, following the motion of the wheels, write, the reply very distinctly and freely.
